

Harry Ellis Brown, 77, First Master Farmer In County, Dies Wednesday; Funeral Saturday

Harry Ellis Brown, 77, Fairfield, one of Adams county's most outstanding farmers, died Wednesday night at 11:50 o'clock at the Warner hospital. He had been admitted to the hospital last Friday and had been ill for several months.

He was the first Adams countyman named as a master farmer, receiving the honor in 1936, and served as president of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association for 23 years. He was a member of the executive committee of the association for 27 years. In April, when illness prevented his serving longer as president, he was named president emeritus of the organization.

Headed State Group
On January 16, 1947, he was elected president of the Master Farmers Association of Pennsylvania. He served as vice president of the state organization during 1946.

A native of Fairfield, he developed an outstanding dairy and general farm in that vicinity. For many years he operated a milk route through the Fairfield, McKnightstown, Cashtown and Orrtanna area. An example of his initiative was shown when snow blocked roads, a number of years ago, and he delivered milk to neighboring communities by using a hand car on the railroad.

School Board President
He was a member of the Fairfield school board for 18 years and served as its president for a number of years. He was a charter member of the Fairfield Community Fire company, a member of the Fairfield lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and served as a member of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library from 1947 until a few months ago when illness forced him to resign that post. He was a member of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield.

Funeral On Saturday
A son of the late Edward and Helen Weagley Brown, he was a life-long resident of Fairfield. Surviving are his second wife, the former Sadie Cluck; two sons, Floyd E. Brown and Harold D. Brown, both of Fairfield; two grandsons and a sister, Mrs. Fannie Hartzell. His first wife, the former Jennie Dear-dorf, died 37 years ago.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Allison funeral home, Fairfield, with the Rev. Dr. Norman Wolf, his pastor, officiating. Interment in the Fairfield Union cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock.

Firemen To Elect Officers December 12

The December meeting of the Gettysburg Fire company will be held at 8 o'clock next Wednesday evening instead of at 7:30 p.m., the usual time of meeting, it was announced, following a meeting of the board of officers at the fire engine house Wednesday night.

The change in the time of the meeting was made because of a dinner to be held earlier the same evening at the Moose home on York street. Several members of the fire company are members of the dinner committee.

Officers will be elected at 8:30 p.m. Following the business session light refreshments will be served. The board of officers also announced that a sea food dinner was being planned for a later date following one of the fire company meetings.

A and P Employees To Share In Big Bonus

Employees of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company throughout the country will share more than $2,000,000 in pre-holiday compensation this year, it was announced today by Ralph W. Burger, president of the food chain.

Every employee with as much as six months' service will receive a part of the annual fund voted by the company's board of directors. Distribution is scheduled for December 14.

BAILED FOR COURT

Bernard Arthur Rich, 50, of Raleigh, N. C., arrested by state police at the Gettysburg substation at 8:45 o'clock Wednesday night on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, was released from the Adams county jail this morning in $500 bail, after signing a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. He was held for sentence court. State police said he ran his car off the left side of the road into a ditch seven miles north of Gettysburg on the Harrisburg road.

Truck Strikes Car Wednesday Evening

An automobile operated by Walter Morrison, 20, of Carlisle, was struck on the right side by a truck operated by Carl Sponseller, 45, of East Berlin R. 1, a mile north of Cross Keys on Route 94 at 6:15 o'clock Wednesday evening, state police of the Gettysburg substation reported today.

Police said Morrison had stopped on the highway to read a direction sign and Sponseller attempted to pass on the right. Damage to the latter's truck was estimated at $10, and to the sedan at $125.

SOLOS, DUETS, CHORALISTS TO FEATURE CHOIR CONCERT SUNDAY

The Gettysburg college choir will present its annual Christmas concert in the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium Sunday evening, December 9, at 8:30 o'clock.

"The Journey to Bethlehem," by C. Cronham; "Noel, Provincial Sur," by R. Bedell, and Noel, "Une Vierge Puella," by N. LeBegue, will be played by Prof. Harry F. Bolich on the organ as the prelude numbers. Following the call to worship, the audience will join in the hymn "O Come All Ye Faithful," and the gospel message will be read by Rev. Edward K. Stipe, college chaplain.

Under the direction of the Student Christian association, the tabeau of the nativity scene will be presented, with the choir singing the following tabeau numbers: "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," plain song; "Away in the Manger," Luther, a duet by Nancy Wertman and Jean C. Sloop and "Christmas Symbol," by P. M. Christiansen, with solo by Miss Sloop.

The choir will then sing "Three Kings," by H. Willan, and "Hallelujah," by Kranz. Four numbers will be presented by the Co-Ed Chorales, under the direction of Miss Ruth Luebbe; "Pat-A-Pan," a Burgundian carol; "The Seven Joys of Mary," traditional; "Alleluia, Christ Is Born," Luvass, and "Noel" by Brett, with solo by Janet Michel.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson will bring the Christmas message and an offering will be taken during presentation of the number "Jesu Bambino," by P. Yon. The audience will join in singing the hymn "Angels from the Realms of Glory." (Please Turn to Page 2)

Orphanage Shares In York Estates

A bequest of $5,000 to the Hoffman orphanage, Littlestown R. D., at the death of a sister, is included in the will of Thomas E. Brooks, Red Lion cigar manufacturer, which was filed for probate Tuesday in York.

A sum of $20,000, the income from which is to be paid to Sallie P. Wright, sister of the decedent, during her life is to be placed in bank and upon Mrs. Wright's death the will provides $5,000 for the orphanage as well as other sums to churches and other organizations.

The tentative value of the estate as recorded on the applications for letters testamentary is given as $15,000.

The Hoffman orphanage will also receive $27,308.27 in the will of Mrs. Katharine A. Gerber, late of York, which was filed Wednesday in York. The bequest is effective upon the death of her husband, John L. Gerber.

Committee Seeks Blood Donors Here

A campaign to enroll blood donors among employees of central town business places have been launched by members of the community betterment committee of the Gettysburg Lions club, working under the direction of Orville B. Orner, donor recruitment chairman for the county chapter of the Red Cross.

The canvass for volunteers, who may be called to give blood on the next Donor Day in this county, January 25, is expected to be completed within a week or 10 days.

The men who will make the canvass are: Leo McDermitt, Chambersburg street; Sydney Poppay, Carlisle street; G. W. Lefever, York street, and Mr. Orner, Baltimore street. The first two blocks of each street will be covered.

RESIGNATION OF SICKLES TO BE ACCEPTED

The Board of Health will recommend to the borough council that the resignation of Eugene S. Sickles as borough health officer be accepted. Sickles, who tendered his resignation to the health board two months ago, sent his resignation to the borough council last Monday night. It was tabled. The health board similarly took no action in October.

"Mr. Sickles has a right to resign if he no longer wants this job," Dr. Harrison P. Harbach, president of the health board, said. "I don't believe that we should try to insist that he keep the job if he no longer wants it."

To Accept Applications
The board spent considerable time discussing the matter, and then adopted a motion by Stover Small, a member of the board, recommending to borough council that the resignation be accepted. The board expressed its appreciation of the work done by Mr. Sickles as health officer, and its regret at his resignation.

The board also decided to accept written applications for the position. It will consider applicants and recommend a name for appointment by the borough council. The president was also instructed to notify borough council that the term of Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington as a member of the board expires January 1.

Members present at Wednesday night's meeting, held in Dr. Harbach's office, were Dr. Harbach, Mrs. Pennington, Mr. Small and George E. Burgner.

Countian Fired For Theft At Letterkenny

A Letterkenny employee lost his job at the depot after federal authorities accused him of stealing a pneumatic nut runner in recent weeks.

The employee is Clair J. Clapsaddle, of Arendtsville.

The equipment was found in an Adams county garage. It is said to have been taken some time between August 22 and November 19.

Clapsaddle was fined $37.50 and costs before U. S. Commissioner Edwin D. Strite, Jr. Then he was dismissed from the depot's employ.

DEATHS

J. Harvey Felix
J. Harvey Felix, 72, of Gettysburg and Reading, Pa., died at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Robinson convalescent home, Broadway, Hanover, of complications. He had been at the home for the last 12 days.

Mr. Felix was born in Adams county, a son of the late James A. and Barbara Catherine (Glosser) Felix. He lived for a number of years in Gettysburg, and had also made his home with a son, Lester L. Felix, in Reading. He was a plumber. Mr. Felix was an honorary member of the Gettysburg lodge of Eagles and a member of the Hanover Home association and the Sons of Union Veterans of York.

He is survived by his wife, Bertha I. Sterner Felix; one son, Lester L. Felix of Reading; five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; one brother, Frank Felix, and one sister, Mrs. Charles Trostle, both of Gettysburg.

Allies Agree To Specify All Points Of Inspection During Armistice; Boost Air Attacks

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 6 (AP)—The allies today agreed to go along with a Communist demand that only specified points be subject to inspection during a Korean armistice.

The concession was part of a new U.N. eight-point plan for solving the bitter dispute over policing an armistice.

While Allied truce negotiators abandoned their demand for unrestricted behind-the-lines inspections, they insisted that the checks be made by joint Allied-Red teams.

The Reds reacted immediately—and unfavorably—to the Allied proposal, said a U.N. spokesman, Lt. Col. Howard Levie.

Want Neutral Inspection
The Communists want all inspections made by representatives of neutral nations. The U.N. command has not formally rejected this idea.

Levie said the Communist delegates repeated their old argument that the use of joint inspection teams would interfere with the internal affairs of the North Korean people.

Levie emphasized, however, that Allied negotiators did not regard the Red reaction as a rejection of the eight-point program. He said the Communists probably will have more to say when the delegates meet again in Panmunjom at 11 a.m. Friday (9 p.m. EST Thursday).

Levie predicted the Communists would offer a new or revised plan.

The Communists conceded one point in Thursday's 2 1/2 hour session of the two-man subcommittee.

To Study Programs
They agreed for the first time to take up point by point the programs each side has presented for supervising an armistice. Previously, they had insisted on discussing each plan as a whole.

The U.N. command communique said "the discussions which followed resulted in the reaching of understandings on only a few points."

The eight-point Allied plan provides that:

1. All hostilities cease within 24 hours after the armistice becomes effective.
2. Both sides withdraw troops from the 2 1/2 mile wide buffer zone within 72 hours, leaving only police units.
3. A military armistice commission named by military commanders be responsible for supervision of the armistice.
4. To Restrict Force
To check at ground, sea and air ports of entry and communication centers throughout Korea. Members of the commission have freedom of movement over all principal lines of communication. The commission also be responsible for aerial observation and photo reconnaissance.
5. Neither side increase the strength of its forces, equipment, military facilities or materiel.
6. Within 72 hours after the armistice goes into effect each side withdraw ground, sea and air forces from territory controlled by the other side.
7. Each side be responsible for administering half of the buffer zone on its side of the demarcation line.
8. The armistice not become effective until the military commission is organized, staffed and ready to begin operations.

Chritzman Building Is Damaged By Fire

Fire caused by defective neon transformer wiring nailed to the under side of a bay window on the front of the second floor of the Chritzman building, 23 Chambersburg street, caused damage estimated by Fire Chief Donald G. Jacobs at $100 Wednesday afternoon. Firemen were called at 3:25 p.m.

They used a booster line to extinguish the flames, which had eaten into the framework of the window.

RAISE INTEREST RATE

J. D. Miller, president of the Biglerville National bank, today announced that interest rates on savings and time deposit accounts at the bank will be increased to two percent beginning January 1. # 3 DIE, 200 HURT IN RED RIOTS IN TEHRAN TODAY

Tehran, Iran, Dec. 6 (AP)—At least three persons were killed and more than 200 injured today in a five-hour battle between 5,000 yelling Communists and 2,000 police and troops backed by angry mobs of Nationalists.

It was the bloodiest violence in Tehran since June, when riots resulted in more than 20 dead.

Police and troops got control of the situation early this afternoon, after using tear gas, fire hoses, rifle butts and clubs. At least two rioters were wounded by police gunfire, although most of the police fired into the air.

Many of the injured were reported in serious condition and the toll of dead may rise.

An estimated 5,000 pro-Communist students started the heaviest rioting when they marched on the Mafis (Parliament) shortly after dawn, in defiance of a government ban on demonstrations.

Nationalists who support Premier Mohammed Mossadegh spilled into the streets and engaged in bloody conflict wherever they met the Reds.

The police and Nationalists together smashed and routed the Reds who shouted "death to Mossadegh" and fought with clubs, stones and gas.

What started as a Communist show of force against Mossadegh's government turned into a bloody Red defeat. Yelling mobs of Nationalists smashed and burned Communist "peace" headquarters, raided pro-Communist newspapers and a theater and dumped bushels of torn and burned propaganda books and leaflets into the sunlit streets.

Around The Town

The four television towers that have appeared recently above the county home buildings do not mean that guests there are enjoying television regularly. The sets belong to members of the staff at the home and the receivers are in their living quarters.

A Christmas gift suggestion—with the fighting men in Korea on the receiving end—is offered by the Red Cross Blood Donor committee in a display in the Bikle Insurance office window on Baltimore street. The suggestion is that a pint of blood given here will be a welcome gift for Yankees on the fighting front.

Gettysburg residents will be able to take the town's temperature at a glance while rounding the southwest corner of Lincoln Square. A large, two-foot circular thermometer has been placed at Zerfing's store, facing in such a manner as to be visible from any part of that section of the square.

Stan Walker Named VFW Home Director

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 (AP)—Stanley E. Walker, athletics director of the Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars, today was appointed director of the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Walker will assume his new duties January 1 succeeding Charles F. Adams, who resigned because of ill health.

Walker graduated from Gettysburg college in 1932.

BULLETINS

Mahinog, Camiguin Island, Philippines, Dec. 6 (AP)—Flaming Hibok Hibok volcano hid its toll of dead today under a smoking blanket of ash which rained for the third successive day on seven burned villages. So far 200 bodies have been recovered. Official estimates say 500 more probably are buried in a six-square-mile area covered by lava and volcanic ash. It may be a week before total casualties in Tuesday's eruption are known.

Key West, Fla., Dec. 6 (AP)—President Truman today announced the acceptance of the resignation of Dean Rusk, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. It is effective immediately.

Rusk has been chosen president of the Rockefeller foundation, to succeed Chester I. Barnard when the latter retires next June.

Paris, Dec. 6 (AP)—Hopelessly deadlocked between White Russia and American-backed Greece, the United Nations General Assembly today temporarily postponed the election of an 11th member of the Security Council. Earlier Chile and Pakistan were elected to fill two of the three vacancies, almost without opposition.

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—A threat of summary perjury action hung today over future witnesses at a House hearing which already has produced directly conflicting testimony about an alleged tax shake-down attempt based on the use of big Washington names. Rep. King (D-Calif.), chairman of a House Ways and Means subcommittee investigating tax scandals, said it was evident perjury had been committed before his group.

Elect New Grand Master Of Masons

Philadelphia, Dec. 6 (AP)—The new grand master of Masons in Pennsylvania is Albert T. Ayler of Pittsburgh.

Also elected were Ralph M. Lehr, Harrisburg, deputy grand master; Charles H. Nitsch, Philadelphia, senior grand warden, and Sanford M. Chilcote, Pittsburgh, junior grand warden.

Hague Libel Suit Settled Abruptly

Freehold, N. J., Dec. 6 (AP)—A $2,000,000 libel suit against Frank Hague came to an abrupt end yesterday as the former boss of the New Jersey Democratic party settled the case out of court.

Hague settled the suit, filed in 1942 by Jersey City lawyer John Warren, on condition that the monetary settlement would not be made public.

A major issue in the nine-year-old suit was the amount of Hague's wealth, long a subject of considerable speculation. In pre-trial statements, Hague, who served for almost 30 years as mayor of Jersey City, listed his net worth as $2,049,937.62.

According to a reliable source, the amount of settlement of Warren's suit was "substantial."

FLY NON-STOP TO NORTH AFRICA

Forth Worth, Tex., Dec. 6 (AP)—Six strategic air command B-36 bombers — the kind that could carry an atomic bomb 10,000 miles and more — returned today from an historic non-stop training flight to Africa.

They landed at one of the brand-new American air force bases. It is one of several super-secret air fields being built around the world for global defense.

Maj. L. A. Froulx, intelligence officer of Southbridge, Mass., said it was the first time flights other than local ones had landed at the Sidi Slimane, French Morocco, field. Crewmen shrugged off the actual flying as routine.

The planes flew non-stop to Africa and non-stop on their return to their home field, Carswell air force base here. Distance one-way is 4,984 miles.

The first giant 10-engine bomber touched down at Carswell at 12:47 a.m. (EST). The planes took off from Africa at approximately midnight, EST, Tuesday. The flight left here Saturday. Other bombers landed at irregular intervals, the last at 2:45 a.m. (EST).

It was the second flight across the Atlantic for B-36s. The first was to England Jan. 12. They returned Jan. 21.

Cleveland, Heyser, Skinner On All-South Penn Eleven; 7 Other GHS Stars Honored

Gettysburg high school's undefeated football team and South Penn conference champion carried off the lion's share of honors in the 1951 South Penn All-Conference selections made by the South Penn Sportswriters association, assisted by coaches for the first time.

Ten Warrior squad members were included among the 45 gridgers chosen as outstanding, three on the first team, three on the second team with four receiving honorable mentions.

Clyde Cleveland, honorary co-captain of the Warriors, was chosen as a first team guard for the third straight year. He is the lone repeater from last year.

Also picked for first team honors were William Heyser, end, and James Skinner, tackle.

Tri-O On 2nd Team
Named to the second team were Richard Carter, tackle; Bobby Miller and William Williams, backs. Miller was pushed into the second team when Jim Miller, Shippensburg, was chosen as the fourth back for the first team in a vote to break a three-way tie.

Carlisle, runner-up in the 1951 race and 1950 champion, also gained three first place votes. Fred McCoy, center, polled the highest number of votes, 55 out of a possible 60, and gains the honor of honorary captain. Robert Lowry, tackle, and Pete Calaman, back, were the other Herd players gaining top honors.

Eddie Fox, hard running Hanover back, was second to McCoy in the poll with 53 votes.

Honorable Mentions
Honorable mentions included the following Warriors: End, Dick Harriel; tackle, Wayne Spence; backs, Wayne Tonsel and Skip Fisel. Tonsel was dropped to honorable mention in another vote needed to break a three-way tie for second team honors.

Paul Carson, Waynesboro sophomore end, and Skinner, a junior, were the only non-seniors chosen to the first team.

Carlisle, Chambersburg and Mechanicsburg each had seven men honored; Hershey, six; Hanover, five; Waynesboro, two, and Shippensburg, one.

MOUNTS' RALLY NIPS TEACHERS

A scorching last-period rally which was good for 29 points gave the Mt. St. Mary's college dribblers a 55-51 victory over Shippensburg State Teachers' college Wednesday evening at Shippensburg. The game had previously been scheduled for Saturday.

Shippensburg got off to a whirlwind start and led 35-19 at half time and 45-26 going into the final frame. Paced by Jerry Ryan and Ted Kachnowski, the Mountainers pulled the game from the fire in the final session. Jack Denahan sent the Mounts ahead 53-51 with a goal with less than two minutes remaining and another goal was landed before the final whistle.

Next Tuesday Elizabethtown college will play at Emmitsburg.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Elks Pay Honor To 3 Members:
Tribute to the life, character and accomplishments of three deceased members of Gettysburg lodge, 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was paid at the annual memorial exercises in the Majestic theatre Sunday afternoon. The largest audience in recent years was in attendance.

Judge Donald P. McPherson eulogized the late Judge Samuel McCurdy Swope and W. Clarence Sheely spoke on behalf of the late William A. Hennig and Ephraim C. Thomas.

Dr. W. E. Tilberg was the principal speaker. Lawrence E. Oyler, exalted ruler, officiated at the service and was assisted in conducting the orders ritual for the departed brothers by Rufus H. Bushman, Fred P. Haehnel, C. R. Wolff and J. Alfred Holtzworth and other officers of the lodge.

The Seminary quartet sang two numbers. Mrs. G. N. Waters was at the organ.

Buys Althoff Home: Charles E. Redding, Carlisle street, purchased the home of the late Frank Althoff, West High street, at public sale Saturday afternoon. The purchase price was $1,975.

Five Business Places Robbed Sunday Night: Thieves entered five Gettysburg business places early Monday morning and escaped with $225 in loot, including money and jewelry.

The places burglarized were The Gift Shop, Gardner's variety store, the Peoples drug store, the Farmers' central market and Ralph Butt's refreshment stand.

The heaviest loser was C. Paul Cessna, who estimated that the robbers got approximately $200 worth of merchandise.

A. S. Coffman Is Promoted To New Post At Blocher's: A. S. Coffman, for the past ten years associate watchmaker at Blocher's jewelry store, has been made chief watchmaker and repairman. Mr. Coffman came to Blocher's ten years ago. He is a native of Bedford, Virginia.

Select Cast Of Local Comedy: With the cast and choruses selected, rehearsals are progressing rapidly for the musical comedy "Rainbow of the Rio Grande," a home talent performance to be given at the Majestic theatre next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Business and Professional girls club of the Y.W.C.A.

The cast includes Miss Elizabeth Stallsmith, Fred Pfeiffer, William Mickle, Miss Madeline Culp, Fred Biehl, Howard Williams, Miss Dorothy Gilbert, Raymond Wisler, G. N. Waters, Robert Codori, Ray Jones, Jacob Applier, Lester Utz and Miss Jeannette Eshleman.

Upton Close Gives Lecture: When Upton Close, whose real name is Joseph Washington Hall, and who is reputed to be one of the best informed authors and correspondents on China, lectured in the Majestic theatre, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, his talk on "Asia and Its Relationship" was heard by a capacity audience.

The noted correspondent was secured for the lecture by Gettysburg college, but in addition to college students, members of the senior class of Gettysburg high school, Gettysburg academy, the seminary and townsfolk attended as guests of the college.

Stoner Heads 1932 Bullies: J. W. "Bull" Stoner, of Lemasters, for two years one of the most outstanding linemen ever developed at Gettysburg college, was elected captain of the 1932 football team by lettermen Wednesday night. He succeeds Captain Mike Santaniello, of Scranton.

Stoner has been acclaimed as one of the smartest collegiate wrestlers.

Attend Conference: Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Benson returned to their home in Guernsey after attending the national conference called in Washington this week by President Hoover. Mr. Benson is a member

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

PREPARATION AND READINESS

Nature gives to us our best and most revealing lessons on life. The glory of autumn is about over. The evidence of this fact is seen by the drowsy leaves, covering the ground with what was yesterday's farewell voice to the summer sun. Now the winds scatter these leaves and rains beat them tightly to the earth—and there they sleep to rise!

Each one of our beautiful seasons is a preparation for the next, and all that each season contributes to the next is kept in readiness for the event. And so with each one of us, every good act and every useful effort put forth not only gives evidence of preparation for what may be just ahead, but readiness for any task.

Underneath the great blanket of autumn leaves, outside my library window, sleep the seeds of the springtime, and the promise of newly born flowers, and all the beauty and life that is distributed with summer "just around the corner." There are voices that keep whispering to us about the eternity of everything, that all life is a preparation for it, and that our readiness should be our greatest joy.

Every day of our lives we are preparing for something, whether we have it carefully planned or not. And to our state of readiness to perform, wherever called upon to do so, may depend the success or happiness for which we most yearn. Preparation and readiness work hand in hand. We never know when we may be called to demonstrate our readiness and to prove our preparation as something vital and essential.

Nature conserves and doesn't waste. There is more potentiality in her sun than anyone now knows about, and her earth is latent with undreamed-of treasures of wealth and beauty. For each step ahead nature is always preparing so as to be in readiness.

It is not only a privilege, but a duty, to be happy and to radiate that happiness as though it were a fresh gift from heaven, as frequently it actually is! Unfortunately many of us ill prepare ourselves even to receive happiness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Stillness."

Just Folks

QUATRAINS

Gifts for men—there are three:

Each comes in a box.
The choice has to be Either gloves, tie or socks.

WISH

It's the same wish of old:
May the Christmas bring gladness,
And the coming year hold
Not one moment of sadness.

BEST GIFT

I do not want a diamond ring
Or any rare expensive thing.
If it's a hint you're seeking, I
Would like a twinkle in your eye.

UNTAXABLE

I thought I'd send money—a hundred or two—
Then pondered upon it,
And wound up by sending this good wish to you.
They can't tax you on it.

MORALE SHAKEN IN DEPARTMENT AT WASHINGTON

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—Everybody on the outside now is looking at the Internal Revenue Bureau, which has been shaken root and branch by scandals.

I wondered what it must be like to be on the inside looking out. So I talked with a man who works in the bureau. He's a thoughtful man, badly upset by what's happened, but still has a sense of humor. I asked him what effect the disclosures about the bureau, involving people little and big, have had on the untouched employees there.

Keeps Mum About It

"Have you noticed any change in the attitude of your neighbors toward you? Are they suspicious of you? Are you embarrassed that you're in the bureau?"

"Well," he said, "let me put it this way: a year ago when a neighbor asked me where I worked, I always said the Internal Revenue Bureau. Six months ago when I was asked I said I worked for the Treasury Department (the bureau is part of the department.)

"But now when anybody asks me I just say I work for the government."

We talked a while. And since he knows something about the bureau, I asked him if he thought so-and-so was a crook. This particular Mr. So-and-so was one of some 50 employees who, as a result of the disclosures, aren't employees any more.

Blow For Morale

The man said "I really don't know. How could I? But it's on that very point that the morale of the rest of us in the bureau has suffered a blow."

I asked him what he meant.

"Just that," he said. "All that happened not only makes us wonder about the people involved so far. But more, I think each of us now has a tendency to look at the man next to him, or the one just above him, and wonder about him."

But the morale of at least some of the bureau's employees must have been a bit rocky before the scandals broke open publicly. I doubt all the bureau's more than 50,000 employees were completely surprised when the exposures started.

Haven't Heard The End

Some of them, I'd guess, already had plenty of suspicions about dirty work. It stands to reason they would.

The staff which has come to light didn't just happen the day it was exposed. Each item of crookedness or indiscretion had a history. And there are a number of such items.

And in a bureau like Internal Revenue, with those more than 50,000 employees, it must be hard to keep every act of dishonesty unsuspected.

There are just too many people around, with too many eyes and too many tongues. And once a rumor gets around it doesn't help morale.

One thing is a safe bet: we haven't heard the end of the bureau's scandals.

The pyramids of Egypt, built from 3000 B.C. to 1800 B.C., were the monumental tombs of Egypt's pharaohs.

Long Island, N. Y., has an area of 1,723 square miles, and is smaller than the romantic East Indian isle of Bali, which is 2,147 square miles.

Littlestown NOMINATIONS ARE LISTED BY ALPHA FIREMEN

Nomination of officers took place at the December meeting of Alpha Fire company No. 1 on Tuesday evening at the engine house. Nominations were received from the floor as follows: President, Paul R. Snyder and Clarence L. Schwartz; vice president, Monroe J. Stavelly; secretary, Harry W. Badders; treasurer, Paul E. Altoff; fire chief, Glenn E. Ohler; chief nozzleman, Robert L. Snyder; truck foreman, Levi Hull; pipe foreman, Clair Redding; trustee, one to be elected for a three-year term, Wilson Greene, John Burgoon, George W. Sirevig and Ralph Staley.

The president, Bernard M. Selby, presided at the meeting which opened with the group singing of "America," singing "Happy Birthday" to the president, followed with the Lord's prayer repeated in unison. Allen Wastler was elected to membership. The committee in charge of arranging to have a smoker, Monroe Morelock, Lake A. Shanbrook and Lloyd Harner, announced that the affair will be held after the first of the year. The president announced that the first quarterly meeting of the Adams County Firemen's association in 1952 will be held Tuesday evening, January 7, at Zion Lutheran church, Ardenstville. Truck Foreman Levi Hull reported arrangements have been made to put a step on the rear of the new Mack truck. Fire Chief Glenn E. Ohler reported no calls were received during the last month.

Vote For Emergency Lights

A discussion was held concerning the installing of an emergency lighting system in the new engine addition. The members agreed upon the installation of a system and upon state approval the work will be done. The cost of the project will be shared by the fire company and the Littlestown borough council. President Selby appointed the following to serve as auditors and present a report at the January meeting: Clarence L. Schwartz, Samuel M. Keagy and Jay D. Basehoar. A cheer committee composed of Paul E. Altoff, Bernard M. Selby and Harry W. Badders will serve to distribute Christmas baskets to the needy of the community, from the company. The firemen decided to adopt a resolution of sympathy to be inserted in the minutes and a copy of the same sent to Henry E. Waitman and Paul R. Snyder concerning the recent death of the former's mother and the latter's son. Refreshments were served by the December committee consisting of Claude Snyder and Harry W. Stavelly, Jr., to the 37 members in attendance. The next meeting of the Alpha firemen will be held Wednesday, January 2, 7:30 p.m., at the engine house, when the election of officers will be held. The meeting is being held on Wednesday instead of the regular time of the first Tuesday, as that date falls on New Year's Day.

Magazine Sales Report

The annual magazine drive was recently conducted at the Littlestown high school which resulted in a total sales of $2,547.15 by the students. The drive for both the Curtis and the Cromwell-Collier publishers was conducted simultaneously. The quota set for each company was $1,500. The profits derived from the campaign will be equally divided for the benefit of the music and athletic departments. Students will receive prizes for sales made and some lucky one will receive a small portable radio.

In the Curtis drive the total sales amounted to $1,460.65. The highest salesman for this company was Elizabeth Ann Crouse with sales amounting to $44.50. The high salesmen in various classrooms were as follows: 101, Eileen Hartlaub, $33.50; 102, Marie Basehoar, $13.50; 105, Larry Sentz, $5.50; 204, Leroy Lippy, $18.50; 201, Elven Chronister, $41.80; 202, Kenneth Shanefelter, $12; 105, Elizabeth Ann Crouse, $44.50; 7, Joanne Snyder, $16.80; 107, Barbara Helwig, $17; 207, Patsy Snyder, $40; 206, Loretta Study, $17.50; and 103, Barbara King, $8.

The total sales in the Cromwell-Collier campaign were $1,086.50. Geraldine Roberts was the high sales man with a total of $35. The high salesmen in the different classrooms were as follows: 101, Eileen Hartlaub, $26; 102, Lois Feaser, $10.30; 105, Shirley Jones, $20.80; 204, Mary Catherine Schildt, $12; 201, Jeanne Blocher, $12.80; 202, John Koon, $21.50; 106, James Hahn, $15; 7, Garrett Roberts, $14.50; 107, Barbara Helwig, $17.50; 207, Willa Ketterman, $9.30; 206, Geraldine Roberts, $35; and 103, Barbara King, $22.50.

Fifth Graders Elect

The pupils of the fifth grade of the Littlestown grade school recently selected officers to serve for the term. The students of this grade are divided into two sections and are interested by Mrs. Nellie Held, Mrs. Myrtle R. Manthey and John

SENATE NEAR FINAL VOTE ON TAX PROGRAM

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Senate rushed today to pass a $113 million tax package and remove the biggest obstacle to adjournment.

The tax program was listed for afternoon debate and for a final vote during a special midnight session.

The Senate Finance committee approved the bulk of the revenue-raising plan yesterday after $30 million in economies were squeezed out of Gov. John S. Pine's $1,220,000,000 budget.

The tax package already has been passed by the House as a substitute for the abandoned income tax proposal.

Meanwhile, Sen. John J. Haluska

H. Riley. The 5-1 section officers are as follows: President, Karl Bankert; vice president, Julie Ann Kammerer; secretary, Susan Durbin; and treasurer, Judith Breighner. The 5-2 section selected the following as their officers: President, Judy Long; vice president, Gary Maitland; secretary, Shirley Leister; and treasurer, Joan Sentz.

A white gift service will be held by the Women's Guild of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, on Friday evening, 7:45 o'clock, at the church, for the benefit of Homewood Church Home for the Aged, near Hagerstown. The meeting will be in charge of the social service committee, Mrs. Clinton Keonta, chairman. The hostess committee for the December session comprises all members of the Guild who celebrate birthday anniversaries during the months of October, November and December. On that same evening, the executive board of the Guild will meet at 6:45 o'clock, prior to the service, at the church.

(D-Cambria) disclosed to a newsman he may challenge the right of "some senators" to sit on a special Senate Investigating committee looking into his charges that he was offered a bribe to vote against the income tax.

He said he would discuss the matter with his counsel, former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, before taking any action at a public hearing, tentatively set to start next Monday.

Five Democrats and five Republicans were named to the committee headed by Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter). The hearing will be the first of its kind by the Legislature in 10 years.

The Tax Package

The tax package scheduled for a final vote (with revenue estimates in parentheses) includes:

(1) Collecting 30 months of corporate net income taxes within the present two-year fiscal period ($81 million).

(2) Imposing a new one percent tax on real estate transfers to be paid by the seller ($20 million).

(3) Removing exemptions from payment of the eight-mill tax on gross receipts of public utilities for for-hire truckers and bus firms which are now allowed to deduct the amount of license fees paid to the state from their returns ($19 million).

(4) Increasing inheritance taxes from 10 percent to 15 percent on others than direct heirs but leaving the two percent levy on direct heirs intact ($8 million).

(5) Remove the exemption of mutual fire, casualty and marine insurance companies and life insurance firms from payment of the two percent tax on premium collections in Pennsylvania ($5 million).

30 Million Cut

All the bills except the real estate transfers levy reached the floor yesterday. The real estate levy bill was expected to receive formal committee clearance today after amendments are made dealing with the tax to be paid on ground leased for oil or gas well drilling.

The Senate GOP caucus turned to the real estate transfers levy and the insurance premium bill as a means of filling the final gap in reaching a $145 million figure to balance Pine's budget.

The Republican senators had sought to find $47 million in appropriation cuts but settled for $30 million after disagreement on where the additional could have been made.

Chambersburg Street

Gettysburg, Pa.

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 (AP)—E. J. Hockenbury, widely-known hotel executive, died here today after a long illness. He was 72. Active in organization and management of hotels for more than 40 years, Hockenbury had been suffering from a heart condition, according to his physician.

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—Larry Knobl of New York—one of the acquaintances of T. Lamar Caudle made while head of the Justice Department tax division—told House tax investigators today "it is possible" he made as much as $25,000 from gambling last year.

Knobl acknowledged, too, that he has had some contact with "Mr. Costello" in New York. He said he sold Costello some oil. Costello was not further identified immediately in the testimony. During Senate crime committee hearings earlier this year, Frank Costello of New York was labeled as one of the nation's big crime syndicate leaders.

Supply Sergeant Protects Himself

Central Front, Korea, Dec. 6 (AP)—The captured Chinese soldier was all set for a cold Korean winter. Over several layers of underwear and a warm quilted uniform he wore a fine double breasted overcoat. New combat boots and a new winter cap kept his feet and head warm and dry. "What's your job?" asked an interpreter. "Supply sergeant."

Guarantees "Ike" Will Be Candidate

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—Senator Tobey (R-N. H.) said today "I guarantee" that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will let his name go before the voters in New Hampshire's presidential primary next March.

Tobey's flat statement that the general won't disappoint his Republican backers by refusing to be represented in that contest came amid new attacks on the Truman administration.

Senator Duff (R-Pa.), a leader of the organized Eisenhower-for-President Republican group, declared "the Democrats must be thrown out" of office in the 1952 elections, and he added that Eisenhower is the man who can assure it.

COUNTY GROUP WILL CONVENE ON WEDNESDAY

Plans for the 34th annual convention of the Road Supervisors, Secretaries, Auditors, Assessors and Tax Collectors association of Adams county were announced today by Secretary E. J. Baker. The session will be held Wednesday at the court house here, starting at 9:30 a.m.

Glenn Jacobs, Reading township, president of the association, will preside at the sessions. Following an invocation by the Rev. Samuel M. Clarke, of the New Chester Lutheran church, the morning session will open with an address of welcome by Judge W. C. Sheely.

Rev. Mr. Clarke will conduct a memorial service. Addresses are scheduled by Assemblyman H. Earl Pitzer, State Senator Donald P. McPherson and H. A. Thomson, secretary of the state association of township supervisors. Appointment of committees will conclude the morning meeting.

Following a turkey dinner at St. James Lutheran church, served by the Ladies Mite society, the group will reconvene at the court house where J. R. Hamm, New Oxford, will bring greetings from the Mail Carriers Association of Adams county. Daniel Bally, of the state highway department, will speak prior to the final talk by Mr. Thomson. Report of the resolutions committee and election of officers will conclude the program.

Officers of the association in addition to President Jacobs include: John R. Taylor, Menallen township, vice president; Ervin J. Baker, Hamilton township, secretary, and Mearl Heikes, Latimore township, treasurer.

In 1949 New York and Texas were the only states in the United States that had more than 500 hospitals each.

NOTES ON SHADE

TREE DISEASES

No longer is it wise to select shade trees on the sole basis of personal preferences. More and more Americans are trying to peer into the future and asking, "Is this species or variety likely to die from a disease?" In this light the editor is asked many times every year, "Can you recommend a tree that is immune to diseases?"

The gradual diminishing of bird numbers over the last half century along with faster and wider transportation of goods among the far corners of the world has contributed largely to the common prevalence of tree diseases which were unknown but a few years ago. Examples are seen in the Dutch elm disease of the stately elm which, until recent years, was considered one of the finest and hardiest shade trees. Oaks are the latest species to fall victims. In several parts of the Middle West oak wilt is threatening to drive this unusually hardy tree out of favor.

Dependence on spraying as a means of protecting shade trees is a false basis of hope. Such diseases as Dutch elm disease are similar in many details to blood poisoning in human bodies—the infection or seat of danger is beyond the effectual reach of fungicides. This is true of several other threatening tree ills today.

Touching on the timely subject of what kinds of trees are safest to plant for shade purposes, choices are narrowing considerably. However, oaks remain a fairly safe choice, including particularly pin and red species and varieties. Just how far oak wilt will spread and how serious it will become remains unknown. The gamble seems worth the taking.

Gum, especially the beautiful maple-like species correctly designated as Liquidambar styraciflua, is not only one of the most satisfactory trees for shade but it is immune to threatening diseases and insect attacks to date.

Black walnut is not an ideal shade tree because its small leaves do not make a dense shade. Yet it is a comparatively healthy tree and certainly it is handsome and clean in addition to its merits in terms of nut crops and valuable timber.

Both ash and beech trees are counted among species relatively free from threatening diseases. In fact, beech has a clean slate on this score while a few cases of anthracnose are the only marks against ash. Both make satisfactory shade specimens.

that is free from serious diseases is the Ailanthus, often called Tree of Heaven. A few readers have reported cases of wilt but none has proved fatal. In all cases the pistillate form and not the staminate should be selected because the latter produces ill-smelling blooms.

Hardwood maples may still be chosen with considerable safety, particularly the so-called sugar and black species.

Wherever willows can be utilized for ornamental and shade roles they may be selected with wisdom because they are not subject to any severe diseases.

The editor will gladly discuss shade tree matters with readers who are having trouble in choosing among the many fine trees that are likely to succumb in future years to diseases already known or others which may be introduced.

GROWING CHRISTMAS CACTUS

The so-called Christmas cactus is also known as Crab-cactus. It is correctly listed in catalogues as Zygocactus truncatus. Native to Brazil where it grows freely in dense forest surroundings, it is found attached to trees but not in the true sense of a parasitic plant, such as mistletoe. For some strange reason it maintains remarkable popularity as house plant and demands for cultural information about it are numerous.

To gain a start with his plant, house plant growers should purchase a fully grown specimen in early fall or obtain leaf sections from neighbors in late winter and root them in sand or sandy loam. In fact, the oddly formed foliage joints may be rooted at almost any time of the year.

It is not always an easy matter to determine why large plants occasionally refuse to bloom although they are otherwise in vigorous condition. The editor has experimented with various specimens under normal household environments and, in the absence of available literature on the subject, has found that most cases of bloom failure are traceable to two or three main factors: First, lack of an annual rest for the old plant; next, probably need for slight root-binding. Of course, dry air, too high temperatures, excessive watering, poor drainage, starvation and many other cultural mistakes many contribute to failures.

So little printed matter is known to exist on this subject, every grower should experiment somewhat with soil mixtures. From the experience of many successful growers it is evident that the Christmas cactus likes a fairly rich soil composed of garden loam, fine leafmold or peat and pulverized weathered cow manure gathered from a summer pasture. This should be mixed thoroughly and sifted. Some sand may be added.

Temperatures should not range into the middle or upper 70s except where the air can be kept moist. Fewer failures are reported where the temperatures remain in the lower 70s and upper 60s. Apparently, judging from the plant's geographical origin, the evils of higher temperature levels are solely a matter of dry air and not a matter of temperature alone.

The vicious habit of daily sprinklings is perhaps as harmful to this plant as it is to most other indoor ornamentals. One or two soakings each week or a thorough soaking whenever the soil is dry should be practiced. After flower buds form it may be advisable to water from the bottom. In all cases the water should be at or a few degrees above room temperature, never cool or cold.

The plant should never be placed on or near radiators or other heating units and not exposed to full sun soon after watering. After the flowers fade the plant should be watered and otherwise cared for as about a month to six weeks and then water gradually withheld for a week or so and then it should be stored undisturbed in a dark basement or cellar until late May or after frost dangers are past and outdoor temperatures are uniform. Then give it an over-summer location on a north porch or in a shady bed, watering only as needed to avoid drying or weakening.

Liberal growth indoors should be induced in early September by watering. The plant will not come into bloom until Christmas, regardless of feeding and watering.

STEPS WITH EASTER LILIES

Forcing Easter lilies is truly a long-range task. From seven to eight weeks are necessary to promote root growth after bulbs are potted, then 12 to 13 weeks are required to force top growth and subsequent bloom. In all, bulbs should be potted approximately 20 to 21 weeks before the desired bloom stage date. For example, bulbs should be potted in late November to bring plants into full bloom by the middle of April.

Considerable misunderstanding is encountered in the name of "Easter Lily." Occasionally it is carelessly applied to the common daffodil. But in the florist trade this name refers to the large white lily sold widely at Easter time. It is correctly listed in catalogues as Lilium longiflorum giganteum. Beginners should not shy away from this burdensome name because its use eliminates all dangers of mistake in buying bulbs.

Easter lilies are generally grown in greenhouses although in some cases housewives succeed in bringing them to bloom under normal home conditions. And while the editor does not recommend this ornamental for home culture, he offers the following brief suggestions for those hardy souls who wish to try this task.

Buy vigorous bulbs correctly named as advised above. Pot them individually in 6-inch pots in a soil composed of dry weathered cattle manure obtained from a summer pasture, loam scraped from the under side of a heavy old sod, plus some sharp sand. Mix one part pulverized manure with three parts loam and sift the mixture.

Water the soil after it is firmed well around the bulb and then place the pot in a snug coldframe or a dark, medium cool cellar and cover it with peat moss, straw or hay or other fine vegetation. Darkness, freedom from freezing, and uniform temperature are three factors to stress at this stage.

One of the most important keys to successful culture of this lily is to have the pot well filled with roots before it is brought out of storage to force top growth. This is essential. Usually eight weeks is sufficient time for this purpose.

A greenhouse or a room where greenhouse conditions prevail is recommended for forcing top growth and bloom. For the first stage of this dual task—top growth, subdued light at first is desirable but never direct sunshine. The temperature may range around 45 to 50 degrees at night and 60 during the day. After 10 days the temperature should be raised to 60 at night and 70 during the day, with light increased. Throughout this period the soil should be kept moist but never wet. And water should be a few degrees above room temperature in all cases.

When flower buds appear the plant should be fed with manure water—water tinted with weathered cattle manure. If growth is slow, add a scant level teaspoonful of nitrate of soda to every gallon of water. Raising the temperature during the latter part of the top growth stage will hasten blooms.

The finest flowers are produced by buying and potting new bulbs each fall. However, the old bulb may be kept over and used again by watering the plant after flowers fade until the top dies back naturally. Then the bulb may be stored undisturbed in the pot in a dark cellar where the air is not dry. Many experienced growers advise against keeping the old bulb over, although if it can be kept from shriveling during its annual rest period it will produce another fine plant the next spring.

Ex-Police Chief Is Guilty Of Blackmail

Towanda, Dec. 6 (P) — A Bedford county jury last night convicted Herbert Klotz, former police chief at Canton, and George Bullock, Canton justice of the peace, on blackmail charges but acquitted them of extortion charges.

Albert Lamb, of R. 1, Ulster, testified that Klotz and Bullock obtained $500 from him whereupon a charge of drunken driving lodged against him was reduced to reckless driving. He said he was fined $28.50 on the lesser charge and that Klotz later paid that much back to him.

Klotz and Bullock, from the witness stand, denied the accusations categorically.

TRUMAN REVIVES WEAKENED FEPC WITH NEW TITLE

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP) — In 1941, before he got into the war, President Roosevelt issued an order creating an FEPC — Fair Employment Practices Commission — It lasted through the war. Then it died because Congress wouldn't vote money to keep it going.

The purpose of the FEPC was to see that no one employed in a defense industry, or looking for a job in one, was discriminated against because of his color, race or religion.

But it had no real power of its own.

It had to depend mostly on its ability to persuade an employer to stop discriminating. It could order him to stop, but it couldn't go into a court and have its orders enforced.

In a showdown all it could do was appeal to the President. He had the power to seize a plant where the FEPC said the employer was discriminating. That was a weapon not pleasant to use.

Gets New Name

Monday in Key West President Truman resurrected the FEPC with an order creating what he called a Committee on Government Contract Compliance. That's the old FEPC under another name.

And, like the FEPC of Roosevelt, it has no teeth. It can't compel anyone to do anything by itself. It doesn't even cover as wide a field as the old FEPC.

The old one, when it heard of discrimination in employment, could step in not only where there was a defense plant but into an industry supporting the defense effort, like a street car line which carried workers.

The jurisdiction of the new FEPC is limited entirely to those plants which have a contract with the government or are doing work for the government.

Every company getting a government contract must sign an agreement saying it won't discriminate against people in its employ or looking for a job because of race, color or religion.

Production Is Problem

So the new FEPC is supposed to police these contracts, to see that there's no discrimination. But what can it do if it finds an employer is discriminating? Nothing on its own. It can't order him to stop.

It can try to persuade him. If that Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 5 (AP) — Superior Court Judge Kenneth Wynne today dismissed the manslaughter charge against Dr. Donald F. Gibson, Danbury physician. Judge Wynne agreed with a defense contention that the state had failed to produce proof of a guilty connection between the dapper, 50-year-old Dr. Gibson and the death July 26, 1950, of Elizabeth M. Ayres, 74-year-old spinster, whose estate he inherited.

Wilson, whose job is getting production, is certainly going to think twice before he scraps a contract with a plant he considers essential to production. That would probably be his last resort.

Southerners have fought the idea of an FEPC, certainly one with teeth or powers of compulsion. Still, since 1941 about 11 states and at least 19 cities have created FEPC's of their own, some with teeth.

Would Ban Lurid Court Reporting

Rome (AP) — Italy is thinking of doing something about the lurid court reporting which makes foreigners gasp.

The Italian press skips nothing in stories of trials. Details of crimes, sex perversion, dope addiction and other subjects which American and British editors would blue-pencil are described in detail.

A bill prepared for submission to the Chamber of Deputies would change all this. At present the press can publish anything brought up in court and it is privileged. The new law would allow publication only of prosecution charges, defense pleas and established facts.

Has Anxious Wait At Broken Safe

Baltimore (AP) — The owner of a local lumber company called in a man to pry open his wall safe.

Yeggs had broken into the office the night before and the combination was knocked off. It looked like the burglars might have gotten $4,000 in the safe and jammed the door shut again.

But the money was still there when the door was opened.

Fuel Economy In Britain Is Serious

Harrogate, England (AP) — British businessmen were urged here to "cast out from your works and offices and canteens all electric radiators and water heaters and cookers and replace them with something more thermally efficient."

The plea was made to the Fall Conference of the British Institute of Management by B. E. A. Vigers, a London fuel efficiency expert.

Stressing the seriousness of Britain's fuel shortage, Vigers said if too many people left fuel economy to the other fellow British industrialists will all go down together.

Wild turkeys are found in 19 of the states of the United States.

RUSSIANS WILL BE PROBLEM IN YEAR TO COME

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 6 (AP) — Each year brings forth its own fresh crop of sensations—so no one can predict what lies ahead—but from what we know about it already 1952 ought to be a pretty interesting year.

That cuts two ways. overseas and here at home, with practically everybody better able to understand what goes on here than in foreign affairs with high level planning and secret information.

Overseas there'll be Korea, of course. War or peace there next year? That's too tough. No one is even guessing. And then there are the Russians. They never stop being a problem. And they won't stop in 1952.

Steel Strike Maybe
War with them? People around here don't seem to think so. Some kind of peace with them? That seems too much to hope for. What then? The answer brings us right back home.

We'll still have the defense program. It'll make things tighter and scarcer next year.

But if it were just doing without more things, there wouldn't be much of a problem. The problem is: What price defense program?

Just around the first of the year we could have a steel strike although that seems unlikely. If one should be called, the President is sure to act to avert it since it would cripple defense production.

More Inflation
But the steelworkers are asking for more money. If they get all they want, and the steel companies are allowed to raise their prices to pay for the raise, up goes inflation some more.

There'll probably be more inflation anyway, steel strike or no steel strike, with prices edging up a little here and there, but steadily, as goods disappear a bit, leaving more people with more money to spend somewhere.

Of course, their spending ability has been cut down a bit by the recent tax increase, which will hit them with full force next year. And who knows but that Congress may find it necessary to boost taxes further in 1952?

Looking at it at this minute, another tax raise seems a little unlikely. Next year is an election year and the politicians in Congress—the voters have to decide on one third of the 96 Senate seats and all 435 House seats—aren't likely to anger anyone by kiting taxes again.

More Scandals Ahead
Scandals in the government seem certain to get a lot of space in the papers in 1952, and to become one of the main items in the presidential campaign which, as the Republicans and Democrats hold their nominating conventions in Chicago next summer, should mount in intensity.

At the moment everyone knows that Senator Taft and Governor Warren of California want the Republican nomination but no one is quite sure what's going to happen in that convention if General Eisenhower consents to run.

And everybody seems to know less of what's going to happen in the Democratic convention since President Truman hasn't yet said whether he'll be a candidate to succeed himself and some Democrats probably still feel they may get Eisenhower on their ticket if Mr. Truman won't run.

All in all, 1952 won't be a poor year for keeping up the public interest.

JUST LIKE HOME
Singapore (AP) — Desmond Paul Pereira, 28-year-old Malayan school teacher now studying at Stanford university, writes that American college life is remarkably similar to that of Malaya. "There is even the same type of college humor," he observed.

EVERYONE ASKS TO SEE JUST ONE 'GOOD OLD' YULE

"How I would long to see just one more 'old-fashioned Christmas'!"

These are familiar words at this time of the year. Before the Yuletide season is over, some member of the family, grandfather or grandmother, probably, is certain to pass that remark, as they have done each Christmas of the past.

And yet, if we search back into the records . . . to the turn of the century, say . . . we find that, even then, someone was wishing for "an old-fashioned Christmas." It is then that we realize that the celebration of the birth of Christ has not changed greatly with the passage of centuries. Basically, Christmas is the same, year after year. It is only the world and the people who are not the same.

He may not admit it, but when grandfather first began to raise a family, he overheard his elders musing over the changing Christmas customs and heralding the approach to "complete commercialism" of the Yuletide celebration. Even then they were worried.

No one can deny that Christmas has been greatly "commercialized" since the days of early America. Yet, so has the entire nation. In the days of our ancestors there were none of the vast trading centers and commercial marts that we know today. Our very way of life has been greatly changed with modernization. Our holidays, and Christmas is the principal one, have managed to keep abreast.

Still, without reservation, Christmas is basically unchanged in its true meaning as a celebration of the birth of the Christ-Child redeemer, come to save the world. No matter how great or how small the presents piled beneath the tree, each Christian heart never ceases to remember that Christmas is Christ's day.

Drug addition is grounds for divorce in seven U. S. states.

Christmas Once Was Movable Date

Christmas was once a movable feast. The eastern branches of the Christian church usually celebrated it in April or May, Western Europe sometime in January.

In 337 A.D., St. Cyril, bishop of Jerusalem, set out to make the date universal. With the permission of Pope Junius I, he appointed a commission to determine, if possible, the precise date of Christ's nativity. The theologians of the Church finally agreed upon December 25, and since the year 354 this date has been celebrated.

Members of the Greek, Russian and Ukrainian Orthodox churches in the 20th century observed the date of January 7.

For the Sudanese people as well as the Egyptians, the Nile river is center of life and prosperity.

WE'll put it up to you! There must be plenty of good reasons why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.

Here are some things to think about.

There's the way Chevrolet looks. Nice clean, curved lines—like cars in the high-price field! Chevrolet's Body by Fisher sets the pace among low-priced cars.

There's the way Chevrolet rides and handles. The smoothness and big-car comfort of Uni-tized Knee-Action. Bigger brakes—biggest in the field—for safer, surer stops. Finest no-shift and standard driving at lowest cost with Powerglide or Synchro-Mesh transmission.

There's the way Chevrolet saves. Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in the field and the savings go on and on with low operating costs.

There are plenty more reasons why Chevrolet is America's favorite. Come in and let us show them to you.

GREETINGS BY MAIL STARTED 100 YEARS AGO

Look at the paintings on the Christmas cards you send and receive—you'll find famous names and some of the best contemporary art. Here is how it all began.

On a December day in 1846, a middleclass Englishman, Henry Cole, sat at the library desk of his London home addressing to his friends what were probably the first Christmas cards ever printed. The cards depicted a Victorian family assembled at the festive board and the traditional Christmas customs of giving to the poor. They also bore the now-classic greeting: "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you."

Orders Painting

Cole, in a historic move, two months before had commissioned John Calcott Horsley, a Royal Academy artist, to paint the illustration for the card and had struck off a thousand lithographed copies. He dispatched them that December. This was such a markedly successful stroke of good will that plain Henry Cole subsequently became Sir Henry Cole.

Horsley's art was a far cry from today's Christmas card paintings, but he started a cycle which a hundred years later was to bring fine art into high favor on Christmas cards.

An American shopping for cards may select, for instance, a painting called "Snow Under the Arch" by another Royal Academy member—Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister and famed amateur artist. Or he might choose Peter Hurd's "One Night in Winter" or "Grandma" Moses' "The White Church" or "The Nativity" by Alexander Ross.

THE FARAWAY LOOK

Winnipeg, Man. (AP) — Justice Ralph Maybank of the court of King's bench believes Canadians can get a better picture of their country when they get away from it for awhile. In an address here he said he had found this to be true while serving as a delegate to the United Nations.

In Connecticut Good Friday is usually proclaimed by the governor as a day of fasting and prayer.

An Age-old Story Retold... "She brought forth her first-born Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger."

ILLITERACY DECREASING

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia is going ahead full-speed with her "Battle Against Illiteracy" and education officials are satisfied with results shown so far. Illiteracy has decreased by 10% to 85% since the Dutch period, the government says. Literacy campaigns are organized on a district-basis, often with material assistance of UNESCO.

INSPECTIONS HELP

The wise home owner gives his home a regular inspection and watches out for the little imperfections that will occur in masonry and framework and other materials about his building. A regular inspection will locate the possible damage that may occur and become expensive later on. Roofs, sheet metal, masonry, woodwork, screens, windows, are all parts of the outside of the house that should be gone over thoroughly at least once each year.

SANTA and the MAGIC MIRROR

by LUCRECE HUDGINS

AP Newsfeatures

Police Sprang from the Crowd, Put Poppy in a Car and Rushed Him off to Jail.

SYNOPSIS: Belinda bravely enters the sad house to ask Mr. Lump's permission for Tommy to go with her to visit Santa. She runs out in fear as the terrible Mr. Lump grows at her. Belinda promises Tommy that if he will go with her to the department store, her Poppy will know what to do. He takes her hand and decides to go.

SANTA AND THE MAGIC MIRROR

Chapter Three
TROUBLE FOR POPPY

Belinda and Tommy ran through the streets of the great city until they were out of breath. Then they slowed to a walk and went on hand in hand pushing their way through the crowds of Christmas shoppers.

Tommy Lump never said a word. One instant he was torn with fear of what his father might do if he found him gone. The next moment he was wildly eager for this enormous adventure that he had started upon.

Presently they came to the store where Poppy worked. In the lobby of the store was a giant tree dripping silvery icicles and glowing with colored lights. On the tip top was a golden angel. At the bottom was a pool of glittering packages.

Tommy Lump just stared and stared. Never in his life before had he seen a Christmas tree. He would have stayed there forever drinking

The boy nodded dumbly.

Poppy reached out and drew the boy, too, into his arms. "Well," he said kindly, "this year you'll have a Christmas, I think."

"I told him you'd fix it!" cried Belinda.

"You mean I'll have a tree and toys and everything?" whispered Tommy hardly daring to believe.

"I'll go to see your father," promised Poppy. "I'm sure he won't say not to Santa Claus. Now you two children be my helpers until my lunch hour. Then we'll see Mr. Lump."

Speechless with happiness, Tommy Lump became a Santa helper. Belinda lined up all the children who came to see Santa. Then Tommy handed each one a great lolly pop. And he and Belinda had one, too, whenever they wanted.

All morning the children helped Santa. Finally it was lunch hour and Poppy got off his great red throne and took the children out of the store. He didn't bother to change his Santa suit or put on a coat or anything.

They walked towards Tommy's home and people turned to smile at the Santa Claus striding along between two skipping happy-faced children.

But as they turned on to Tommy's street they found crowds of people packed on the sidewalk while police cars with screaming sirens roared in the street.

"What's going on?" Poppy asked a man.

"A kidnapping," said the man. "They say Jeremiah Lump's boy has been stolen."

At that very moment Mr. Lump, standing at the top of his marble steps, spied Tommy and Belinda and Poppy in the crowd. He flew down the steps and hurled himself on in the sight and smell of it.

But the crowds swelled around the two children, swept them upstairs and downstairs and through room after room until suddenly they found themselves standing before a great red throne.

On the throne sat Santa Claus himself.

All the fear left Tommy Lump as he gazed at the cheery, red-suited man on the throne. For the first time he believed there really would be a Christmas for him.

Poppy reached out and drew Belinda to his side. "Couldn't you wait for Santa to come home?" he asked with a smile.

"I could wait," said Belinda, "but Tommy couldn't. Oh, Poppy, you know the sad house we saw this morning?"

Poppy laughed. "You mean Mr. Lump's house? The house of the rich man?"

"Poppy, he isn't rich! He can't be. Because here is Tommy, Mr. Lump's little boy, and he's never had a Christmas in his whole life! Never seen Santa Claus—never hung up his stockings. And he's sad. I told you it was a sad house."

Poppy looked at Tommy Lump standing there thin and pale and wretched in his patched, too-tight coat. "Are you really the son of Jeremiah Lump?" asked Poppy in astonishment.

TERMITES FROM OREGON CAUSE OF HEAVY LOSS

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 (AP) — Ever wonder what causes shortages? Sometimes the supply of the product cannot meet the demand. Then again it could be some little thing... like termites for example.

The termites, foe of man in the latter's search for good wood, recently scuttled a shipment of Douglas fir that would have built two or possibly three small-ranch type homes.

Damp Wood Termites

The story unfolded this way: Some 30,000 feet of the wood, sent from Carleton, Oregon, arrived at Norristown. It had been sold to a dealer in Willow Grove, near Philadelphia.

Insects many times the size of termites born in Pennsylvania were found working their way through the wood. They were identified by a state Agriculture department wood expert as "damp wood termites" found on the west coast.

These pests are highly destructive with a voracious appetite, as witness their ability to destroy telephone and electric poles and weaken the astonished Poppy screaming, "Here he is! Here's the man who stole my boy! Arrest him!"

And before Belinda or Tommy or Poppy could even speak, a dozen police sprang from the crowd, put Poppy in a car, and rushed him off to jail.

the woodwork in buildings.

The new owner of the wood was given three alternatives:

1. Return the shipment to Oregon; (2) Put it through a kiln at high temperature; (3) Set it afire.

He chose the later method on the grounds this was the surest way to prevent the insect from getting a foothold in this part of the country.

This tricky pest carries the nickname "damp wood" because it usually feeds after rotting wood. But if it comes across a good piece of wood it can exude charges of spores which decay the wood.

Plan "Trial Run"

Columbia county has been selected by federal agricultural officials for "a trial run next year" of a more direct approach to meeting the conservation needs of each individual farm. That's the report from Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the state Production and Marketing Administration committee.

The program, Zehner says, is designed to seek out what conservation measures are needed on the individual farm rather than making the approach on a specialized basis such as the dairy or livestock industry.

Next year, Zehner added, the local committee for the production and marketing administration will contact each farmer to see what his individual problems are. The PMA feels, he said, that this type of program will bring home "much more effectively" the conservation program.

MONUMENTS TO COURAGE

Progress in science has not been without opposition. Ignorance, superstition, and reluctance to accept the new frequently have impeded advance. Use of an anesthetic to ease the pain of childbirth was once derided by a clergyman, who called it a decoy of Satan. An eminent physician rejected the explanation of childbed fever when it was revealed that unclean hands of attendants spread the disease. Jenner, Lister, and others endured crushing ridicule and criticism. The vast assortment of life-giving drugs available today represents the contributions of the world's great medical scientists, past and present—enduring monuments to their courage, conviction, and intellect.

News Of Special Interest To The Residents Of Emmitsburg And Vicinity

OLD HOME WEEK ADDED $1,447 TO HALL FUNDS

Net proceeds from Emmitsburg's Old Home Week celebration and carnival totaled $1,447.07, the treasurer of the Emmitsburg Memorial Hall association reported at a meeting of this organization Tuesday night in the fire hall, bringing the total in the fund being raised for a new community building to $1,697.07. Edgar Enrich, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

Considerable time was spent in a discussion of additional ways and means of raising money for the fund. "The response to our appeal for contributions has been discouraging," President Enrich said. "I believe that if the people understood the great need for a community building and gave more thought to the idea that the building will be owned by the community and dedicated to the men and women who served their country in time of war, the response would be more generous and the association would be able to begin actual construction at a reasonably early date," Mr. Enrich said.

Contributions thus far include $100 from the Emmitsburg Grange; $50 from the auxiliary of the Emmitsburg VFW; 500 cement blocks by Morris Zentz; 500 cement blocks by Edgar Enrich and all the gravel needed for the construction by Ginnell brothers quarries. President Enrich announced that contributions could be made at any time to himself, the secretary, Carroll E. Frock, Jr., or the treasurer, Thornton W. Rodgers.

Scrap Drive Planned
Following the report of the Old Home Week profits, President Enrich expressed his personal thanks to the people of the community and cooperating organizations who helped make the affair a success. The association adopted unanimously a motion that a letter of appreciation be sent to the Old Home Week general chairman, B. H. Boyle. The president designated Col. Thomas J. Frailey to write the letter, which requested Mr. Boyle to transmit the thanks of the association to participating organizations and committee members.

President Enrich announced that the Emmitsburg Grange is sponsoring a scrap drive for the benefit of the Memorial Hall fund, with himself, Morris Zentz and Charles R. Fuss in charge. He asked that anyone having scrap to contribute call members of the committee. The plan, he said, is to collect as much as possible on a single day, using trucks. "We need to know where to go to make the collection," he said.

VOTE SUM FOR DECORATIONS

The Emmitsburg Town Council met Monday at the town office, West Main street, with Commissioner Thomas J. Frailey presiding. Mayor T. W. Rodgers and Commissioner C. R. Fuss reported on the alley repair project that all the town alleys had been gone over and repaired, stoned and in some places macadamized. They reported that the work had been done by using Frederick county equipment. The total cost was around $3,000 for 12 blocks.

Mayor Rodgers and Commissioner Fuss were commended for their successful handling of this project, especially in securing the county equipment.

Three hundred dollars was appropriated for Christmas decorations for the town to be carried out in conjunction with the VFW in the near future. No parking signs were ordered to be placed on west side of S. Seton avenue, along Sperry's upper garage. Action to place a strong safety fence around the town disposal tanks and drying beds and to install it soon was taken. It was pointed out that the great depth of these tanks makes them very dangerous. The council commended Officer Koontz for his boy's club work. The council is planning to meet with State Road Commissioner McCain

Zurgable Bros. Take Over Matthers Store

The former Matthews company store and business located on West Main street in Emmitsburg was recently taken over by Zurgable Brothers. The Zurgable Brothers, a partnership including three brothers, Roger, Maurice and Henry, will continue the business as formerly conducted by P. S. K. Matthers, consisting of the wholesale candy business, confectionary, electric appliances including television, radio and refrigeration, floor covering, household appliances, paints and varnishes. Zurgable Brothers also operate a farm and building supply business on Route 15, two miles south of Emmitsburg.

Two brothers of the firm are veterans of World War II. Roger, a graduate of Mt. Saint Mary's college, served in the U.S. Navy from January, 1943, to May, 1946. Maurice served in the air corps from January, 1942, to November, 1945.

In 1946, they started the farm and building supply business by erecting a 40 x 100 building on Route 15, which has since been enlarged to 40 x 150. Here they handle hardware, farm machinery, equipment, feed, building supplies and fertilizers. The store located in Emmitsburg on West Main street is open daily except Sunday from 8 in the morning until 10 each night.

OPEN WAREHOUSE

The old Frizzell store on West Main street, now owned by Col. Thomas J. Frailey, was opened this week by Martin Brothers with B. H. Martin, proprietor, as warehouse No. 2. Mr. Martin stated that he would carry a complete line of poultry supplies, sanitation supplies for farm use and handle feed and coal at this location which until recently was operated by Robert I. Troxell as a feed, coal and hardware supply store. Martin Brothers have conducted the feed and coal business at their warehouse located on East Main street for the last 20 years and it will be continued.

concerning the work on Main street after the holidays.

LEGION ASKS FOR MAGAZINES

The regular meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post No. 121, American Legion, was held Tuesday night at the post home on North Seton avenue with 40 members present. Jack Rosensteel, first vice commander, presided in the absence of Commander Eugene T. Rodgers.

An appeal was made to all members of the post to contribute magazines to be given to patients in nearby hospital. It was also announced that the Legion will accept magazines for this purpose from anyone in the community, and that magazines be brought to the post home until the week before Christmas. Philip B. Sharp is chairman of the committee to distribute the magazines to the hospitals.

One new member, Christopher C. Springer, was voted into the post. A carton of cigarettes was ordered sent to Everette Chrismer, a patient at the Newton D. Baker hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va. A carton of cigarettes was also ordered to be presented to Jack Rosensteel who was recently a patient in the Camp Detrick hospital. A motion to present a typewriter as a gift to the Ladies Auxiliary of the post was passed. The annual Christmas party to be held at Christmas time was decided upon and will be for social and auxiliary members as well as regular members.

William L. Topper was appointed chairman of a committee to be selected by himself to decorate the home for the Christmas season. Approval was granted to the Boy's Junior Police club to use the Legion basement for their weekly meetings and activities. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

FIREMEN'S CLASS

Fire Chief John J. Hollinger said he is pleased with the good progress being made by all the 28 enrolled members of the Emmitsburg Fire company in the Fire Fighters course now in its fourth week and meeting every Thursday at the Fire hall from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Special instruction will be given tonight in the care and use of the hose and nozzle. Last Thursday the class of local fire fighters received instruction in the use of the ladder in fighting fires.

RETURNS TO STORE

M. P. Rowe, who has been on the sick list for the past several weeks, is able to be in his store on West Main street this week. Mr. Rowe, who is in his 87th year, has worked at the shoe making and repairing trade for 65 years at the same location. He started at the age of 18 with his father who was a shoemaker.

CHORUS TO SING

It has been announced that the Emmitsburg Community chorus directed by William Simpson will give a program of Christmas music on the Sunday night before Christmas, December 23, at 8 o'clock.

There are six federal penitentiaries in the United States.

Community Christmas Celebration Dec. 24

Emmitsburg's annual community Christmas celebration is scheduled for the day before Christmas, Monday, December 24, and will be an all-day affair. The Lions club is sponsoring the celebration again this year. This has become an institution and draws hundreds of children and adults to town for the day.

Lions club President C. Arthur Elder has announced the committee. George L. Wilhide was given the position of general chairman. His assistants will be Quinn Topper, Charles Spriggs, John J. Hollinger, Ernest R. Shriver, Dr. J. J. Dillon and Wilbur T. Umbel. The advertising committee is made up of Clarence Hahn, Charles R. Fuss, Edward G. Stull, Herbert Rodgers and Cloyd Seiss. The plans are for the celebration to follow the general program of other years, opening with a free movie for the children at the Gem theatre at 10 a.m., followed by a free lunch at the town hall. Santa is expected to arrive in town and be at the Center square about 2 o'clock with his treat of candy and oranges for the children. Music is also planned for the event.

Shooting Match To Be Held On Sunday

The Vigilant Hose company of Emmitsburg will conduct a shooting match which will be open to the public Sunday, December 16, beginning at 12:30 o'clock at Emmitt Gardens, about a mile east of town on the Taneytown road near Ohler's tavern. Twelve-gauge shotguns will be used and shells will be furnished for the match which will offer turkeys, geese and ducks for prizes. Only still targets will be used. The match is for the benefit of the Emmitsburg Fire company and takes the place of the annual turkey raffle. The following committee, Guy McLaughlin, chairman, John J. Hollinger and Guy Baker, Sr., is in charge.

Emmitsburg

Elias Evangelical Lutheran church will celebrate Christmas with a series of special services starting with the church service December 23 at 10:30 a.m. when the church choir directed by Mrs. Reginald Zepp will sing a number of Christmas anthems including several from Handel's Messiah.

The second Christmas service will be on Sunday evening, December 23, at 6:30 o'clock when the Sunday school will give a Christmas program in the parish hall. A third Christmas service will be the traditional Candlelight Christmas Eve service held in the church Monday night before Christmas from 11 o'clock to midnight. In addition to the candlelighting ceremony this service will include music by the Chapel choir directed by Mrs. Reginald Zepp and a brief Christmas message by the pastor.

Three quarters of U. S. imports of cobalt come from the Belgian Congo.

CHURCH BAZAAR ON SATURDAY

Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church of Emmitsburg, has announced that everything is ready for the annual Christmas bazaar which will be held at the parish house this Saturday with choice of turkey or oyster suppers and service starting at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The bazaar will also feature home baked cakes and pies, fancy work and novelties. Approximately 75 women and men of the church have been soliciting, planning and making the necessary preparations for this annual event, which draws attendance from Gettysburg, Thurmont, Taneytown, Frederick, Waynesboro, Fairfield, Blue Ridge Summit and other surrounding territory as well as locally.

Mrs. Roy Maxwell and Mrs. Roy Bollinger are serving as the chairmen of the entire bazaar. They are assisted by a hand-picked corps of 15 cooks and a large number of kitchen helpers in preparation of the expected 400 roast turkey and oyster suppers. The parish hall with its large floor space makes it possible to serve large numbers of diners quickly.

The dining room service will be in charge of nine hostesses and a group of 24 girls and young women. Mrs. Frank Shuff assisted by a committee of ten women of the church will have charge of the fancy work table. Mrs. Ernest R. Shriver, Mrs. Clarence Hahn and Mrs. Charles Sharrer, chairman of their committees, will have charge of the cake, candy and baked products sales.

Pen-Mar Baseball Trophy Returned

A special meeting of the Pen-Mar Baseball league was held Tuesday night in the VFW hall, Littlestown. President D. L. Beegle presided with Emmitsburg, Taneytown, Westminster, Cashtown, Fairfield, Littlestown and McSherrystown represented.

Treasurer C. A. Elder's annual financial report was accepted and the season's business was concluded. Each club will receive about $55 in refunds. Thurmont and Cashtown were fined $20 each for not fielding a team against Littlestown the latter part of the season.

The pennant and trophy, previously awarded Taneytown, was returned to the president after a ruling he made nullified all of Taneytown's games due to playing an ineligible player. The next meeting will be held in January when new officers will be elected.

Fairfield

Fairfield—The Reformed church will hold a ham and oyster supper Saturday in the fire hall. Serving will start at 4 o'clock.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fairfield fire company will hold a Christmas party Thursday evening, December 13, in the fire hall. All ladies of the community are invited to attend. Each one is asked to bring a 50 cent gift and a donation of food.

Lloyd Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers, left Friday for Camp Stoneman, Calif., after spending a 15-day furlough with his parents.

George Steinberger lacerated three fingers last week when they were caught in a corn shelling machine on the farm of Harold Deardorff.

Mrs. Walter Leister, Hazleton, is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Allison.

Mrs. James Neely entertained the bridge club on Monday evening. Prizes for high scores were won by Mrs. E. G. Adams and Miss Mary Harbaugh. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Clarence Wilson.

The annual election of officers was held Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of the Fairfield Community fire company. Those elected were: President, Paul Myers; first vice president, Warren Danelley; second vice president, Raymond Myers; secretary, James Weikert; treasurer, Wesley Schable; financial secretary, Raymond Miller; fire chief, Roger Myers; assistant fire chief, Howard Reindollar; directors for three years from Fairfield borough, Cleason Herring and Harry Kane; director for three years from Liberty township, Joseph Lowe. Installation of officers will be held at the January meeting. The regular meeting night is the first Wednesday of each month.

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange scheduled for Wednesday night was called off due to the conflict with the meeting of the Maryland State Grange in Frederick this week at the Francis Scott Key hotel. Many of the local grangers are attending these state grange sessions in Frederick, which include morning, afternoon and evening meetings.

Roving AP Reporter Brings Old Christmas Carol Up-To-Date

By HAL BOYLE
New York (AP) — Once upon a time Charles Dickens wrote a famous Christmas carol about an old shilling-squeezing miser named Ebenezer Scrooge and how we caught the holiday spirit.

Did you ever wonder what happened after that? Well, . . .

A well-dressed fat man, his arms full of gaily-wrapped packages, stood by a bus stop.

Idly he watched a red-and-white street corner Santa Claus soliciting donations. A seedy old man in a worn brown coat came by.

"Anything for the unfortunate?" Cried the Santa, rousing his bell.

"Anything for the unfortunate?" The seedy old man pulled out a worn quarter and put it in the hand of Santa Claus.

"Christmas!" he jeered. "Bah! Humbug!"

But Money For Food

He wrapped his worn brown coat tighter around his throat, and walked on. Then he saw the fat, well-dressed man. He held out his hand and said humbly:

"Can you stake a fellow to a bite, brother? I haven't eaten for two days?"

"But I just saw you give a quarter to that Santa Claus," said the fat man. "If I give you another quarter, will you give that one away, too?"

"I probably will — it's the old Christmas spirit in me," agreed the seedy character dimly. "I can't help myself. The Christmas spirit is a curse with me — it runs in my family."

The fat man said he didn't understand. The seedy man said he'd be glad to explain — in return for a meal.

Relates His Story

The two went into a cafeteria and the seedy man ate greedily. Over a steaming cup of coffee he then related the following tale:

"My great-great uncle was a prominent English merchant. He had stacks of money, but he was such an old skinflint the family looked forward to inheriting it soon, figuring he would die of his own meanness."

"One Christmas Eve his nephew — my great uncle, that was — went in to wish him the compliments of the season, and the old scoundrel crumbled, 'every idiot who goes about with Merry Christmas on his lips should be buried with a stake of holly through his heart!'"

"A real miser," murmured that fat man.

"Yes, indeed," said the seedy man. "But that night the old miser was bawling in the head or something. He began to have hallucinations — I repeat."

Infected With Xmas

"You may think so. But he began to . . ."

He was infected with Christmas. He had stacks of money, but he was such an old skinflint the family began dreading to orphan asylums and old homes. When he died, as they opened his will — he was a broke."

"Yes, but . . ."

"That started the family curse," continued the seedy man. "My uncle buckled down and penny-pinched his way . . ."

happened? When he was away he went bawling one Christmas, too. He started a win-over thing away and didn't quit until he had . . ."

"The same thing with my uncle. And me? Five years ago, after a lifetime of savings, I had $500,000. Then the penny-and-rod will hit me. After that it was Christmas every day in the year with me. I still is — and 'm alone broke."

"Bah! Humbug!"

The fat man began to feel uneasy. He gave his seedy companion a dollar bill, and said he had to be getting home.

As they left the cafeteria a burr stepped up and held out his hand hopefully. The fat man merely looked the other way. The seedy man in the brown coat hesitated then dolefully pulled out his dollar bill. He gave it to the bum.

"Thank you — and Merry Christmas," said the bum.

"Christmas!" snarled the seedy man in brown. "Bah! Humbug!"

As he stamped off angrily, the fat man called after him:

"Say, by the way, what is your name?"

And the answer came floating back to him through the night:

"Scrooge. Ebenezer Scrooge, the third. Bah! Humbug!"

West Chester, Pa., Dec. 6 (AP) — A dental technician formerly employed at Valley Forge Army hospital was fined $50 and costs in Chester county court for practicing dentistry without a license.

Judge Ernest Harvey imposed the fine yesterday on Aaron Selvitich of Diamond Rock, near Phoenixville. The usual penalty for such an offense is a $500 fine and six months in jail but the judge said that in passing sentence he had taken into account the fact that Selvitich is a veteran.

Lebanon, Pa., Dec. 6 (AP) — Initial proceedings to give up the franchise of the strike-bound Lebanon Valley Transportation Co. are expected to be filed today at Harrisburg by the operator of the line.

Definite intention to file abandonment of franchise papers with the state Public Utility commission was announced yesterday by E. B. Williams, president of the Beneficial Corp., of Wilmington, Del. Beneficial operates both the Lebanon and Reading bus companies. Nearly 300 drivers of the two lines have been on strike since Nov. 2 over a pension administration disagreement.

POINSETTIA IS POPULAR DUE TO STATESMAN

Although he was a brilliant statesman, and the friend of four American presidents, Joel Roberts Poinsett is famous chiefly because he introduced the Mexican plant known as the "Painted Leaf" or "Mexican Fire Plant" into the United States.

Poinsett, then U. S. ambassador to Mexico, called the plant to the attention of American botanists and grew the plant himself as a hobby at his South Carolina home, after he left Mexico.

The plant grew heavily in American favor—especially popular at Christmas time—and was renamed poinsettia, in honor of the man who brought it to this country.

Contrary to popular impression, the flaming red bracts of the poinsettia are not flowers, but leaves, and it is for these bracts that the plants are grown.

It is possible to have variations of either pink or white varieties, as well as of the more usual red, popular because it carries out the holiday color scheme of rich bright red with a contrast of the dark green of the leaves.

Temperamental Plant

The beautiful poinsettia, almost a "must" as far as Christmas decorating is concerned, is one of the most temperamental of plants.

The poinsettia thrives in its native Mexico, but elsewhere must be handled carefully—perhaps pampered slightly. However, the brilliantly colored flowers it has at Christmas time is reward enough for any efforts needed to make the plant thrive.

Constant warmth is needed by poinsettias. Temperatures should be kept between 70 and 80 degrees during the day and no less than 65 degrees at night. Any sudden change in temperature and drafts will cause the plant to drop its leaves.

Abundant water is also a necessity, but it should be applied but once a day so that the plant may become moderately dry between waterings. This permits needed oxygen to reach the roots.

Try to give the poinsettia the sunniest spot available. It is wise to fertilize it occasionally with a good commercial food tablet.

BIRTHPLACE IS WORSHIP SCENE

The scene of the Redeemer's birth at Bethlehem is the site of a full day's worship and prayer each Christmas Eve. The faithful come from all parts of the world to join their voices in adoration and to see the solemn reenactment of the birth of Jesus of Nazareth.

Discontinued for six years during World War II, the pontifical mass and ceremony was renewed in 1945. As the stars on the hillside and the pale moon wrapped the town of Bethlehem in an aura of holiness, the voices of the humble echoed in prayer from the little Church of St. Catherine, built on the hallowed rock of the most sacred spot of the Christian world.

The mass was celebrated at 10 p.m., the voices of the choir-boys ringing out over the surrounding hills. At the stroke of 12 the great bells of the tower of the nativity rang out, loud and clear.

The vicar, holding an image of the Christ Child, joined a procession of priests, acolytes and choir-boys. By flickering candlelight the procession filed over the stone steps leading to the grotto of the nativity. The vicar placed the tiny representation of Christ on the sacred spot where, many years before, the Redeemer came.

an old-fashioned NEW YEAR

By SHIRLEY SARGENT

"How would you like to have an old-fashioned New Year's Eve celebration?" Tom paused hopefully as he set the projector up.

"Heck, no," the eight children complained, almost in unison. "We always have movies on New Year's Eve."

"All right," Tom sighed, "lights off, please."

The lights blinked off, plunging the room into darkness, but the projector failed to work. "The plug's okay," his wife, Martha, said softly. Everybody yelled advice to Tom, but he ignored it.

"Lights," he called finally. "Sorry, folks, but whatever's broken can't be fixed tonight."

"What'll we do?" a disgusted nephew asked.

Tom grinned at their downcast faces. "You're spoiled by these modern conveniences. Why, up to six or seven years ago, we managed to stagger along without movies. Let's have an old-fashioned celebration like we used to."

"Tell us what to do," the children shouted.

Start Fireplace Fire

"Well, now, you start out by getting some good fire logs out of the storm cellar so we can get that fireplace going." Three shock-haired nephews clattered out of the room, but Tom wasn't finished. He turned to the adults, "We'll need marshmallows and apples..."

"And popcorn," his wife interrupted as she bustled out to the kitchen.

"That's right, Martha," Tom felt enthusiastic as he packed his movie equipment away and took the blank, white screen down. He was so tired of showing pictures, he didn't even make a pretense of finding out what was wrong with the projector.

Get Piano Ready

"Hey, Tom," his brother-in-law, Herb, called, "come here and give me a hand with this piano of yours piano carried the dominant tune

We'll just roll it into the archway and maybe we can get Martha to play after a while."

"Come on," an excited voice hailed them into the transformed living room. A roaring fire lit up the walls, both children and adults were sprawled on the floor, eating apples and fixing sticks to roast marshmallows on.

"Well," Tom chuckled, "this looks mighty familiar to me. Let's turn out all the lights except those on the tree. There, that looks better. Now, I'll tell you a New Year story my father always told us."

The older folks joined in, with Tom's baritone booming loud and strong.

By the time Tom had finished telling his story, the fire had burned so low marshmallows were roasting over the coals. Kernels could be heard popping into crunchy white pieces, as Herb showed the boys how to shake the popper just right over the flickering flames. Martha and the other women brought bowls for the hot popcorn and the salt cellars passed from hand to hand as the family ate.

"Sure is good," sighed one of Herb's little girls, rubbing her tummy. "I wonder if I'll have room for turkey tomorrow."

Everybody Laughed

Everybody laughed. Tom leaned against Martha's leg, staring up at the fire-lit ceiling, seeing the happy faces about him and the bright-colored strings of light shining on the tree. He was just about to ask Martha to tackle the piano when Herb's son slipped over and the strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" filled the room. First the me a hand with this piano of yours piano carried the dominant tune alone, then the youngsters' shrill voices swelled up in accompaniment, and finally the older folks joined in, with Tom's baritone booming loud and strong.

After that, Herb's son didn't hesitate but shifted them from song to song. Tom had never heard the old upright sound so well, even if it did need tuning. And the familiar songs, which were more a part of New Year's to Tom than anything else, had never sounded so beautiful. The harmony was so expressive, the faces of his family so peaceful he hated to interrupt.

"Way past bedtime, folks," Tom smiled, "How do you like an old-fashioned New Year's Eve?"

"Lots better than movies," the children said, "just one more song." "Tom," Martha whispered, "don't worry about your projector. I thought this would be more fun, so I did what you said and never put the plug in."

Then Tom, filled with the spirit of the hour, led his family in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

LESS COMPETITION

Raleigh, N. C. (AP) — Any North produce as freely and as cheaply as she could before the war because her workers now demand more pay and better treatment, says Dr. Alagappa Chettiar, a visiting Indian textile magnate. He said no country need now be afraid of Japan's commercial competition. The change in outlook in Japan, he commented, is healthy for all, including Japan.

Seek To Interest 4-H In Planting

Raleigh, N. C. (AP) — Any North Carolina 4-H club member who wants to make some extra money by growing trees will have a real opportunity to get into the business this winter.

Two pulp and paper companies have agreed to give 1,250,000 pine seedlings, all for free, to club members provided they have a suitable place to plant the trees. John E. Ford, assistant forester for the North Carolina State College Extension Service, says any 4-H club member will be allowed up to 5,000 seedlings.

HANS ANDERSON IS PAID HONOR

Last year a festival in Denmark paid tribute to one of the greatest helpers Santa Claus ever had. He was Hans Christian Andersen, fairy tale writer, and composer of many Christmas stories.

His works have sold more copies than any other book, except the Bible, and have been translated into 35 languages, including Arabic, Hebrew, Chinese, Japanese and Greenlandish.

Since 1875, the year that he passed away, visitors from all parts of the world have come yearly to the town of Odense to see the home of the writer of such tales as "The Little Match Girl" and "The Ugly Duckling."

Anderson's fairy tales, released just before Christmas each year, brought him money, fame and the attention of princes, as well as the adoration of children.

Once he received a United States dollar bill, enclosed in a letter written by a young American girl. It read: "Papa says that the dollar is my own, that he does not suppose you are in particular need of money, but I owe you this and a great deal more, he thinks it proper that I should send it to you."

REINDEER HERD IS DECREASING

If Santa Claus misses some youngsters this year, it could be offered plausibly that he was not able to round up enough reindeer for his yearly trip round the globe.

The reindeer shortage has become, in recent years, much too acute. It has been estimated that wolves have destroyed 500,000 of Santa's helpers within the last decade or so, leaving an approximate 50,000.

The difficulty of keeping the animals alive in a temperate climate makes it unlikely that any of the few remaining will be transported from their native regions to other lands for the holiday season, as has been done in the past.

American boys and girls will have to be satisfied with stand-ins. The few department stores featur-

Stable at Bethlehem: . . . The Shepherds "came with haste and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger."

Ballet Dancing Cures Arthritis

Los Angeles (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Anderson, 84, took up ballet dancing a year ago to seek relief from arthritis.

"It worked, too," she says. "I haven't been back to my doctor since." The gray-haired mother of four married daughters said that before she turned to ballet she had spent six months in a wheel-chair and doctors "had all but given me up as a hopeless invalid."

Afraid the arthritis would spread from her legs to other parts of her body, she joined a mother and daughter ballet class and does many of the intricate sequences of the art. Her instructor, Madame Kathryn Etienne, says Mrs. Anderson performing Santa's complete outfit this year will be using native deer as substitute for Dasher, Prancer, and company.

POSTAL CLERK STARTED SEALS

A Danish postal clerk thought of the idea of attaching stamps to Christmas packages and letters in 1903, and a few years later the scheme was tried in America.

This year millions of Americans will receive a letter from their local chapter of the National Tuberculosis association containing Christmas seals, the seasonal reminder of the never-ending fight to stamp out the disease.

Einar Holboell, at work in a Danish postoffice conceived the idea of attaching decorative stamps to Christmas packages, the sale of which could be conducted by some worthwhile organization.

He mentioned it to his fellow workers and they decided it would be a great help in defraying the cost of fighting tuberculosis. The idea reached King Christian, who approved, and the image of Queen Louise was placed on the first seals forms right along with women 40 or 50 years her junior, but "I still won't let her toe dance."

I hope, I hope . . . There is an expression commonly used during the days just before Christmas — and this is it, on the face of the lad with the football. If things work out the way they usually do, he'll get his wish.

In 1904, Jacob Riis, Danish-born American, heard about the idea and sold it to the American public in 1907 through a magazine article written for Outlook magazine. A Red Cross worker, Miss Emily Bissell, started the first American sales that year.

Lightning Study Changes Theories

Pittsfield, Mass. (AP) — The General Electric Laboratories here have turned up some interesting facts in their studies with artificial lightning.

In the first place, lightning bolts don't come from the blue, and those lightning flashes don't hit the earth. Actually they jump skyward at a rate of about 18,000 miles per second. It could go three-quarters of the way around the world while you said "Look out!"

It works like this: As a lightning charge is being built up in the clouds, an opposite charge is building up on earth. The stroke travels slowly from the cloud and is invisible to the naked eye. Then when it makes contact with the ground, it spurts toward the sky in a quick flash.

Scientific names of animals are formed according to the two-name system introduced by the Swedish naturalist, Linnaeus, about 1758.

Pennsylvania produced two million tons of bituminous coal in 1950. In 1950 the state's output was 102,500,000 tons.
